Sir:

In response to the Office Action mailed October 21, 2004, Applicants elect to prosecute the method claims of Group II, and select the species of Figs. 3-5 with traverse.

Applicants do not dispute the restriction requirement between the method and apparatus claims. However, Applicants believe the requirement to choose between a specific species is incorrect for two reasons. First, examining the method claims in conjunction with all the figures would not pose a significant search burden on the Examiner. Second, all claims are generic to both species. Therefore, Applicants request reconsideration of the requirement to elect a specific species.
